MATCH PREVIEW

The Canberra Times' Matt Taylor previews tonight's match against West Adelaide Sharks.

It might seem like a rather obscure analogy, but Canberra Cosmos' players have performed this season like a heavy-weight boxer who has lasted the 15 rounds without delivering its opponent the knock-out blow.

But with the fluency in its play sharpening as each Ericsson Cup game progresses, Cosmos appear to be learning from its mistakes which has invariably led to goals on the counter-punch.

It has been competitive in each of the six games (three draws and three losses), but due to lapses in concentration, such as defenders ball-watching, it has grabbed defeat from the jaws of victory.

The team's main strength appears to be from its set-pieces. Its organisation and height up-front, with Marko Perinovic stalking at the far post, has been the nemesis of opposition sides. However, it now has to prove it can capitalise on concerted build-ups.

Last week, it quite clearly out-gunned Marconi-Fairfield across the park. In the second half, goalkeeper Steve Mautone barely touched the ball. With his side camped down Marconi's end of the field, he linked up as a second sweeper — 25m out of his box.

Apart from the second half debacle against Wollongong City, Cosmos have looked enterprising in attack, and Perinovic has proved himself to be one of the league's best strikers in the air.

A revelation for Cosmos has been Michael Musitano in the side's past two encounters. His strength and physical presence on the pitch coupled with his poise and shot-making has sparked the side's midfield attack.

With his fitness returning after being out of competition for six weeks since the ACT Premier League grand final, Musitano is set to guide Cosmos to victory against West Adelaide tonight—who will receive a shock if Cosmos' midfield fires like it did against Marconi.

West Adelaide's main strike player is Jimmy Tsekenis. He is the linch-pin in the team's attack, and will need to be closely marked.

Cosmos' coach Mike Lyons was pleased with his side's effort against Marconi, and is expecting his players to consolidate on that more polished performance.

"We were all over Marconi for most of the match, and had no luck at all", he said. "It's only a matter of time before we get our first win and I think from then on we'll be right."

"I could not have asked anymore of the squad, and if we play like that again on Saturday, West Adelaide will be in for a big shock."

Matt Taylor

FROM THE LYONS DEN

Welcome to tonight's match between the Cosmos and West Adelaide, a game that I hope will see us come away with our first Ericsson Cup win. With six games played we are unfortunately last on the premiership ladder, however, there is certainly no panic within the team. We have had three draws and three losses in a start to the season that has promised much more, but we are still some five (5) months and twenty seven (27) games from the finish of the season. A finish I am sure will be reflective of our potential and competitiveness as an A League team.

Our progress since game one against Adelaide City as a coach has been very pleasing. We played well against a classy Marconi outfit last Saturday, controlling and having the better of most of the match. We did not come away with any points and probably deserved better, but it was not to be and I look forward to giving all of our supporters something to cheer about tonight.

One problem we have fallen victim of is some tough refereeing decisions. I have watched some of our matches again on television and feel that we have often come out second best, but in saying that, it is a tough job and the referees do not have the benefit of the slow motion replay. I am sure as the season progresses we will get the benefit of some 50/50 decisions. Hopefully, the match tonight will not be decided by the referee, but by some good football and I welcome Raul Blanco and his West Adelaide chargers to Canberra. West Adelaide were unlucky losers to Adelaide City last week and are sitting a win away from us on six points. I look forward to the challenge that tonight will provide.

On a disappointing note our sensational keeper, Danny Milosevic, looks likely to miss the rest of the season with a knee reconstruction. Danny is a gifted young player who has impressed me with his enthusiasm and passion for the game, but even with a season out Danny will still only be 17 years of age and have, what I am sure will be a magnificent career in front of him.

A positive for the Cosmos during the week was the inclusion of Paul Wade in the Australian squad for the matches against New Zealand. Paul is the Cosmos first Soccerroo and I hope as the months go by our other talented players also get the opportunity to represent their country. Best of luck to Paul and the Australian team.

Finally, I would like to personally thank the Canberra crowd for their support of the Cosmos. We had a good vocal contingent travel to see the team at Marconi and I hope you will be in fine voice and get behind the lads tonight.

Mike Lyons

WEST ADELAIDE - A PROFILE

West Adelaide had the honour of scoring the first point in a national football league in Australia. The date was the 2nd April 1977, the scorer was John Kosmina, and the venue was just across town, at Manuka Oval.

How ironic it was then that the national league's first goal scorer ended up being the national league's top goal scorer - amassing a record 123 goals in his national league career. Not to mention top scorer in full international games for the Socceroos (25 goals). What was not ironic though was that the young and talented Kosmina was picked up so early in his career by a club such as West Adelaide. And it did not take too long at all for the ambitious and progressive club to gain national success. In only the year after inception of the national league, West Adelaide were national champions. In these non-finals years, the 'minor' premier was crowned the champion team. West won the 1978 title in a scenario only dreamed about - at its home ground, with an 85th minute goal, on the last day of the league, in front of 16,251 fans - and against long time cross-city rivals, Adelaide City.

A long lean spell followed Adelaide's early successful national stint. The club was to finish at the wrong end of the national league ladder for most of its following national league seasons, and were lucky to avoid relegation twice in early 1980s. West were relegated after the last dual-conference national league in 1986. The club spent four of the next five seasons in the relative limbo of the South Australian state league, interrupted by a brief return to the national flight in 1989-90.

A major report commissioned by the national league executive in 1990 implied that it was in the national league's interests to have a strong club like West Adelaide back in its ranks. Thus West Adelaide were virtually invited back to the national league for the 1991-92 season. Since 1991-92 however on and off the field success has seen West Adelaide needing no more favours to continue its national league survival. After another slow return (finishing second last in 1991-92) the club then made the astute selection of Raul Blanco as their new coach. Dividends were returned immediately with finals placings in 1992-93 and 1994-95. However fans with the glorious memories of 1978 still etched firmly in their minds, and jealous of their rivals Adelaide City recent national successes, are now striving for the club to clinch another title - Ericsson A-league trophy. Do they have what it takes to do it in 1995-96? Early season form may suggest they could get close. But its still early days.

Andrew Howe.

From The Grandstand

Chris Kunz joins the players' bus and presents Diary of a Road Trip - to Marconi Saturday, November 5, 1995

1.15 I arrive at the Canberra Rex Hotel to find an anxious bus driver and an empty Lever Coach. Michael Garcia is the first to arrive followed shortly by the other players and team officials. All had been lunching at Pasta Mania in the City Markets.

1.30 Coach rolls off - but hang on - no Paul Dee! Bus waits on Northbourne Ave until Richard Watson says that Dee told him he would be driving to Sydney - but hadn't told the coach. Mick Lyons: "That's unprofessional! That's a fine!"

1.47 We head off, team officials at the front and generally players from middle to back. Matt Taylor (Canberra Times) sits in the fourth row on the right with Paul Wade behind. I sit with Nich Guoth (Studs Up correspondent) in the third row on the left, just across the aisle from Michael Musitano, who is intently studying the video of his goal scoring performance against Wollongong on the bus video screen. A smile creeps across his face when someone yells out that he covered more ground in his celebratory run than in the rest of the game!

2.35 We're passing Collector. Paul Wade leans into his seat to take a mobile phone call from George (Negus, I suspect), as Mick Lyons continues to point out tactical faults and solutions to individual players. Paul double-checks with Matt on his new title with Soccer Australia (National Promotions Officer) and with me on the weekend games and kick off times. He writes everything down in a notepad in preparation for his regular 3pm live interview on 3AW.

3.03 (David Hookes and Gerard Healy) make contact, but the line is not good. Paul talks for 4 minutes about his SA promotional role but reception difficulties bring the conversation to a premature end. Meanwhile the troops at the rear are excited - Tony Lemezina is ecstatic - Octagonal has won, he has the quinella and is significantly richer for the experience.

3.30 or so and we pull into the Shell station near the Bundanoon turnoff. The players troop off to an afternoon tea of toast and bananas or jam - part of their matchday diet. Paul hangs on to his bottle of Canberra water saying the last lot he had 'on the road' was brown.

4.50 Players start to change into shirts, dress trousers and ties - they ask for more up-tempo music to be played.

5.10 We turn into Cowpasture Road, 5 minutes from the Marconi Club at Bossley Park. Team doctor Trevor Law tells Manager, Tony Borgia, that his tie is too short and that he must make it tighter - much tighter - around his neck. Tony thinks he is serious until he sees Trevor's grinning face!

8.52 The fulltime whistle goes in a match the Cosmos deserved to win, but lost to an early Awaratife strike. Despite playing their third game in eight days, our boys hounded the opposition (and outplayed them) for the whole 90 minutes; unjustly, had a penalty claim denied and displayed some good passing moves in banishing the ghost of the Wollongong game.

9.45 In the Auditorium of the Marconi Club I shake hands with Marconi President and former Soccer Australia Commissioner Tony Labbozzetta and tell him his team was outplayed and lucky. "Look", he says graciously, "I campaigned against having Canberra in the A League because I thought your team would be too weak. But tonight you showed you were worth your place in the competition!"

As the bus headed homeward, with the players laughing and singing in the back, I reflected on the fact that sometimes, words can mean even more than points....
